St. James's, February 8.

THIS Morning, at Four o'Clock, her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs of Brunſwick was happily delivered of a Prince.

Naples, January 14. The Weather has been for ſome Time, and ſtill continues, exceſſive cold. The Snow lies in the Streets of Naples, which is very unuſual. Mount Veſuvius, covered with Snow, and throwing up Fire and a Quantity of black Smoak, makes a moſt extraordinary Appearance. An Eruption of Lava is daily expected, as the Agitation in the Mountain increaſes.

Yeſterday this Court went into Mourning for four Months for the late Dauphin.

Copenhagen, January 21. The General Mourning for his late Daniſh Majeſty, which is now regulated, commences the 2d of February, and is to continue full Twelve Months for all Perſons of the Firſt Claſs, wherein the Foreign Miniſters are comprehended, and extends to Servants and Equipages.

Copenhagen, January 25. The Body of the late King of Denmark, having been embalmed, lies now in State upon a Bed prepared for that Purpoſe, in the great Salon, where Drawing-Rooms uſed to be kept at Court. After having been expoſed ſome Time to the Publick in this Manner, it is to be removed to a magnificent Caſtrum Doloris in the Chapel Royal; and from thence, after another Interval, to be removed in Proceſſion to the Cathedral Church of Rotſchild, the uſual Burying-place of the Daniſh Monarchs: But it is believed the Preparations for the Solemnity of this grand Funeral, cannot be ready before the Middle of March.

His Daniſh Majeſty, and the Queen-Mother, come alternately to Town almoſt every other Day, to viſit the Queen Dowager, and condole with her in her deep Affliction.

Vienna, January 22. The Archdutcheſs Thereſa, the Emperor's Daughter, has, for this Week paſt, been ill of a Feveriſh Diſorder: but is now thought to be out of all Danger.

Venice, January 22. Yeſterday in the Afternoon, the Funeral Obſequies were performed here for the late Great Chancellor, with much the ſame Pomp and Ceremony as are obſerved for a Doge. All the Secular Clergy of Venice walked in Proceſſion with lighted Wax-Candles in their Hands, from St. Mark's Church, and through St. Mark's Place to the Church of St. John and Paul, followed by the School, or Confraternity of St. Mark, with great Numbers of very large Wax Tapers upon Silver Stands of prodigious Size. Inſtead of the Corpſe, an Image of the Deceaſed, taken in Wax, was carried expoſed upon a Bier, attended by the Mourners dreſſed in long Black Cloaks, ending in the Point of a Cone, very high above their Heads. The Vice-Doge, accompanied by the Six Councillors, and the Three Capi di Quaranta, and all the Secretaries, each with a Noble Venetian upon his Right Hand, cloſed the Proceſſion. The Image, or the ſuppoſed Corpſe, was depoſited upon a magnificent Catafaico, or Scaffold, erected from the Bottom to the Top of the Church, and illuminated all over with Wax Candles. The Solemnity concluded with an Oration in Latin in Praiſe of the Deceaſed.

Berlin, January 25. Yeſterday being his Majeſty's Birth-day, he received the uſual Compliments from the Royal Family, the chief Nobility, and Foreign Miniſters reſiding at this Court. His Majeſty, with the Royal Family, dined with his Brother Prince Henry. In the Evening there was an Opera, and afterwards a publick Maſquerade, at his Royal Highneſs Prince Henry's, which was very numerous and magnificent, and laſted till Seven o'Clock in the Morning.

Berlin, January 28. Laſt Sunday his Majeſty had a very numerous and ſplendid Levee; after which his Majeſty dined in his Apartments with his Brother Prince Henry, the Prince Royal of Pruſſia, young Prince Henry of Pruſſia, the two Princes of Brunſwick in his Service, and ſeveral General Officers of the Army.

His Serene Highneſs the reigning Prince of Anhalt Coethen arrived here a few Days ago, and has been preſented to their Pruſſian Majeſties, and the reſt of the Royal Family, by whom he was moſt graciouſly received.
